

Terracotta bas-relief tombstone ornaments created by stonemason and sculptor Jonathan Harmer (1762 – 1849) provided attractive features for those unable to afford expensive headstones, and a number of examples of his work can be found in churchyards around his native Heathfield. This piece, in St Nicholas Churchyard is the only known Harmer terracotta in Brighton

